The Eleventh IASEMS Conference
Università degli Studi di Bologna, 10-12 May 2020

Young Scholars' Workshop

As is now our established tradition, during the Eleventh IASEMS conference we will devote a special session to early career scholars, who are invited to present their current research, focussing on the theoretical and practical issues and problems they are encountering in the course of their investigation. This will be an occasion for early career scholars to disseminate their work and have precious feedback from a qualified respondent and the entire assembly.

Scholars wishing to take part in the workshop should send an outline of their research project (500 words), a detailed bibliography, and a short CV by 15 March to the addresses indicated below.

Presentations should not exceed 10 minutes, followed by discussions. Scholars whose proposals are accepted will be able to apply for IASEMS Minigrants (see website). The possibility to apply for both Workshop and Minigrant is restricted to IASEMS members. For subscription, please visit the website, section 'Subscription', and follow instructions.
